ARNOLD HIGH SCHOOL

THE CREED OF ARNOLD HIGH SCHOOL

II BELIEVE in Arnold High School as a medium for the development of the youth of this town. I believe my school to be the power that upholds the moral and spiritual ideals of youth, that fosters responsibility, and that brings together the factors that make for better citizens. I believe, therefore, that it is my duty to maintain its standards and to better its name.

THE TEACHER

*The eyes of the ages are toward him,
The love of the race is his own.
The heart of the world will reward him
With a name that is more than a throne.
The life that he lives is unending
For he is the servant of youth.
Earth is lit by the flame he is tending
—This priest of the altar of truth.*

The Seniors

The last milestone in our high school career has at last been reached. It is with a mingled feeling of sadness and happy anticipation that we leave the portals of our high school. We experience a feeling of sadness because the many happy hours which we have spent have come to an end. We feel that the work and play which we have done has prepared us for the work and enjoyment of later life. 'Tis a time for memories and for tears because within the still deep chambers of our hearts there points a cold and solemn finger to the beautiful and inspiring visions which have gone and left but a shadow of their passing. The years have gone and with them a glorious throng of happy dreams; their mark is on each brow, their shadows in each heart. They came and faded like a wreath of mist at eve; which, ere it melted in the air, heralded us to life's purpose.

The human instinct to hear and see new things leads us to think of the future. For the future, we hold bright dreams which encourage us on to achievement. Were it not for these dreams, we would have nothing to live for. They uphold and inspire our ambitions.

All life is made of preparation and realization. Most of us have prepared conscientiously and are now about to realize fame, love, and fortune which our foot-steps await.

Senior Class History

Four short years ago our high school course loomed before us. We, a group of one hundred twenty, entered the portals of the Arnold High School temple of knowledge as green as any class could ever be. But as days went on, we advanced from our green stage to a more dignified position.

As Freshmen, nothing very important happened, except that we had the honor of receiving the beautiful orange and blue pennant presented by Miss Smith. Our class was well represented in football and basketball. In the spring of 1926, we took the examinations that were necessary. Thus—the end of our Freshman year.

We returned the next year as Sophomores. This year our number was diminished considerably. The Sophomores had the honor of being the first class to use our new stage.

After many more embarrassing moments we found that we were called Juniors. The first important event was the selection of our motto, "To Be Rather Than To Seem." We believe that we have carried out this motto to its greatest extent. We were in financial distress. That meant that we had to do something to make money so that we might give our Seniors a banquet. We sold candy, held a Hallowe'en party and several roller skating parties. Then came the matter of a class play. The farce comedy "The Arrival of Kitty" was presented the night of December 9. This play went off with a bang. In the latter part of our Junior year class fights started. The Juniors painted the town, and the Junior colors waved from the tops of the flag pole. The last important event of our Junior year was a banquet held in honor of the Seniors. After the banquet and speeches the happy throng went to the Elk's Home where dancing was the special feature.

Before we were aware of the fact we were called "Dignified Seniors." We tried our best to live up to this word "Dignified." In fact, we had to act thus—for wasn't this the year that we were to issue the Cauldron. We saw a difficult task ahead of us, yet, if other classes did it, why shouldn't we. We not only decided to issue a year book, but in addition to make this year book the best ever known in the history of the "Cauldron." The staff was selected to carry on the necessary work. This seems to have been our busiest year. We held skates, dances, hot dog roasts, selected our rings (Oh, what excitement), chose our invitations, and gave our Senior Play entitled "Clarence." May 7 we were true honored guests at the banquet held by the Juniors. Then commencement came, ever too soon. We left the portals of our old Alma Mater to battle with the world. This departure was very sad, yet glorious. Sad because we left the school we loved so dearly. Glorious because we had revealed our goal.

Class Prophecy

It was a June day, twelve years after graduation from high school. I awakened reminding myself that I was to meet a friend of mine at a hotel. I decided that since it was such a nice day, I would walk. I started out and soon came to a group of people standing in front of a large building. When I asked someone what the trouble was, I was told that everyone was viewing the new Cathedral of Learning put up by Frank Healy in which he was to teach all science teachers a thing or two.

Since I was in a hurry I could not stop. On my way to the hotel I passed a large news stand. When I stopped to buy a magazine, who do you think sold it to me? The proprietor Mr. Elmer Tusing. I came to the hotel, and since my friend wasn't quite ready, I sat down in the lobby and read the magazine I had bought. It was entitled "Who's who." These are some of the things I read:

Mr. Louis Almasy, staff physician of Sleepy Hollow Hospital, is trying to entice the public by his big cuts in prices and otherwise.

Miss Jane Potts, a nurse of the above mentioned hospital, fainted at the sight of a drop of blood

Mr. Alfonce Carroll has acquired the position of Editor of the New York Times.

Miss Antoinette Salvator is at last married because she thinks it is better than being single. This is despite her protests against marriage while in high school.

Miss Libbye Horwitz, the acrobat of the day, rolled down a winding stairway without getting a scratch. She learned this in A. H. S

Some people have rotten luck. Miss Ava Luke was going to obtain a job acting as Miss Mary Pickford's double, but Miss Pickford bobbed her hair.

Miss Faye Boyer has opened a beauty shop in which she will take care of blond hair. She knows how.

Mr. James Puglisi is running for the presidency of the U. S. His experience dates back as far as 1929.

Miss Muriel Johnston has edited a book on "How to Play Basketball."

Mr. Harold Barrett has become manager of the Central Drug Company after all these years of strenuous work.

Mr. Anthony Kutylo has at last become famous in the line of art. He draws for all high school annuals.

Miss Ernestine Resh is now known as "Somebody's Stenog."

Mr. Harry Weimer is opening an office in which he will teach everyone how to waste time.

Mr. William Higgins announces his new profession—he is an undertaker.

THE CALDRON

Miss Matilda Castorina is still in the movies—that is—she is still selling tickets.

Mr. Frank Lanfaloni has been taking lessons from Mr. Alphone Welshon on how to keep quiet.

Miss Anne Fritzky has consented to show some of her art to the public.

Miss Eleanor Rogers has gained fame in Europe as an opera singer.

Misses Helen Taraba and Emma Scaries have been offered positions as stenographers by the President of the U. S. but are too timid to accept them.

Miss Louise Tannas is now able to sell ice cream without giving good measures.

Miss Edel Pfeiffer acquired a job as school teacher in her Alma Mater. Mr. Holste always gave her plenty of experience.

Mr. Anthony Pituch is a private tutor in bookkeeping.

Miss Rilla Mullica has written a book dedicated to Mr. Holste in which she tells him everything she said when she was caught talking in Economics.

Messrs. Mitchell Moxon and Robert Stach have gone in partnership in making automobiles that will run no matter how battered up they are.

Miss Emma Grace Twyford still eats peanuts.

Miss Dorothy Dodds is by this time a well known accompanist.

Mr. Maynard Bushnell has become the world's best orator.

At this moment I was interrupted by a bell-boy who told me my friend was ready to see me. I looked up from the magazine and recognized the bell boy as Frank De Felices. His experience in the Junior play had certainly come in handy.

The Class Will

We, the Class of 1929, Arnold High School, city of Arnold, county of Westmoreland, state of Pennsylvania, Western Hemisphere, being of sound mind and memory (we think we are—of course there are exceptions to all rules) do hereby make, publish and declare this our last will and testament which shall take precedence over any other wills before made by us (we didn't make any but what's the difference?).

FIRST—

To our parents who made it possible for us to attend High School, we bequeath our everlasting gratitude, fond reverence and also our appreciation for their altruistic aid in times of need.

SECOND—

To the other classes, we bequeath the high school building and all the rights and privileges that go with it. Also, we wish to will to the Juniors our high example as a class and give them our best wishes and high hopes that they may profit by having associated with us.

THIRD—

To our teachers we leave the hope that we will be worthy of their efforts.

FOURTH

We are the Juniors of our school
The very best that there is as a rule,
We do a great many things each day
That make our class better in every way

When scaling a mountain or scaling a wall
The Juniors reach the top first of all,
We must lead and others follow
That is the way we keep up our motto.

Together we work and together we stand,
We are a happy and successful band,
We always try to be the best that can be,
Because we are the class of thirty.

THE CAULDRON

History of the Junior Class

One fall day in the year 1926, the doors leading into that domicile of learning, called Arnold High School, burst open.

On the steps without was a group of a hundred or so very noisy and very much frightened boys and girls, who stood peering into the building wondering what they would accomplish there in the four years to come. Little did they dream how much they would find and do there during their careers. Yes, this was the Freshman Class of the year and the future graduating class of 1930.

As Freshmen there is little to relate concerning the class for they were very quiet and studious, being as yet very green. The main thing they did was to elect Cyrus George president of the class; for three years he has headed their numerous exploits.

The following year found the group back in school again, but this time they were known as Sophomores. The class was diminished in size, but this did not stop them from taking part in school affairs, for they had really become a part of their school.

It was their third year that was a busy one for the now dignified upper classmen.

The class's first aim was to make money, as money plays an important part in the success of a class. They of course continued the old custom of keeping the candy hungry high school pupils well supplied. Then, too, energetic members of the class sold magazines as a second source for making money. The Juniors certainly lived up to their motto in the winning of the numerous prizes offered for selling tickets for plays and athletic events.

The class really scored its greatest success, however, when they gave their Junior play.

Produced under the direction of Miss Jay and Miss Crim, the play was a huge success.

As a result of spending so much time and effort in making money, the Juniors were able to give the well planned Junior Prom, which was a credit to the class, and showed their good will towards the departing Seniors.

Close on the heels of this last triumph, came the end of a happy and a successful year.

"31 and Its Green and White"

We've built our ladder and now we'll climb
Up the ladder of life,
And as we climb we'll help the rest—
Help them in their strife

Two sets of books we've studied through!
These sets are put away,
And with the books that remain to do,
We'll make each sentence pay.

Ours is a class that'll never quit,
Never bow in shame,
For we have the needed grit,
And we'll use it in the game.

In class we always study,
In the game we always fight,
So we can set records sturdy,
For "31" and its Green and White

Sophomore Class History

We build the ladder by which we rise. To the one hundred students who entered All-I High School as Freshmen in the fall of 1927, this ladder had then no definite form. We built it word the building and formation of it is the one great feat to be accomplished. Building the ladder by which we have risen was no easy matter but, as we progressed the first run formed rather slowly under the heading, scholarship. As Freshmen, we worked hard to gain recognition as a class of scholars, and we were rewarded, for during the term of 1927-28 some of the highest scholastic honors were claimed by Freshmen. Assured of a place in the scholastic field, we turned about to add a new rung to our ladder.

We went about building this new rung by selling the greatest amount of football tickets and by supporting fully every school activity. The second rung of our ladder was headed, "Service."

To cap the beginning of a successful high school career, we gave a party at the end of the term in the High School Auditorium.

In the fall of 1928 this same class diminished in number returned as Sophomores to strengthen and resume building the ladder. We, as Sophomores, strengthened the run, Scholarship, and made it firm. The Sophomores continued their hard work and gained further recognition scholastically. The second rung, Service, just begun in our Freshman year, was definitely made a part of our ladder. We again sold the greatest number of football tickets, and worked hard selling tickets for other entertainments and activities. Our next great achievement was the presentation of a movie, the returns from which were given to the Athletic Association.

The football team and the girls' and boys' basketball teams had as members, Sophomores, who carried the "Spirit of the Class of 31" into the games and fought to a victorious finish. Sophomores also played prominent parts in various other organizations. Our ability was especially conspicuous on the newspaper staff. For these accomplishments we gained a leading place among the classes and a new rung was formed—Leadership.

As Juniors and Seniors we wish to further strengthen the rungs of our ladder already formed, and to add an entirely new one—Success.

FRESHMAN CLASS POEM

We are now to take into consideration
The value of life and start choosing our vocation,
Everyone of us is going to work,
Not a one is allowed to shirk,
So to the vine of desperate struggles we'll cling
For our motto is, "Labor Conquers all Things."
When Retrospection bears its part,
Let them say, "The class of thirty-two has reached its mark."

Freshman Class History

The Freshman school year draws toward its close, and thoughtful pupils take account of their progress, reviewing the year that is past and all those that have gone before it. Many a heart is unnecessarily saddened by the thought of the meager hoard of goods and gear laid aside.

Always edging the shadows is the underlying light. It is our duty to do our share in carrying forward the promise of life, and in the performance of that duty we must struggle and acquire and save and spend. Perhaps that is the answer to our class motto which we had chosen last year, "Labor conquers all things."

We have tried to acquire a precious stone. It is called "Knowledge." Some have attained it, others have let it slip through idle fingers. It is true that mere ownership of this precious stone does not make it thoroughly our own. Only when we love and understand it can we possess it. And that love and understanding must be bought with a price—the price of study and cooperation with our teachers.

Men have fought and died in battle to win the treasures of the earth, and rarely has the victor enjoyed his spoils. Only when his spirit held something in common with that of the prize he grasped could he hold it. Only when had paid for it with travail of spirit could he possess it. So is it with us. We strive to win the treasure, "Knowledge." We must pay and suffer the same consequences.

Along with this precious achievement, we have been gaining another important attribute, which is—experience. Our class was well represented in several clubs, and also furnished talent for the Miscellaneous Program and Operetta. Some of the most promising lads on the football squad were our own boys. The talents and possibilities of our class were just rumpsed this year, but in the future we will aim to assert our complete strength.

This year we have been laboring under cover, so to speak, but it must not be forgotten that this sort of effort helps to win the bigger battles later on—we have been preparing. Whether we have succeeded thus far, remains to be seen.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

FOOTBALL RESUME

The Burnt Orange and Blue warriors opened the home season with the Alumni. The game ended in a 6-6 tie after a hard fought battle.

The second game was played with Ken Ki, our traditional rivals, on our own back yard. Without the service of our center, Frank Healy, our forward wall lacked a great deal of punch. When the final whistle blew, the scoreboard read Ken Hi 14, Arnold 0.

The following week end Arnold invaded Apollo. In this game the Arnold team was minus the service of our Captain, Alphonse Welshon. Though our boys put up a good battle, they were beaten to the tune of 25 to 0.

When the Burnt Orange and Blue played Springdale on our own rectangle, they registered their first victory. The score was 12-7, Arnold's favor.

For the next game Ford City invaded Arnold, and the boys marched on to their second consecutive victory. The Arnold lads went over the goal line twice and Ford City but once. The results were Arnold 12, Ford City 7.

On a warm Friday afternoon Arnold journeyed to Freeport and lost an exciting battle 7 to 6 after having held the lead for three cantos.

The Arnold lads won their third victory when we guarded against Leechburg at Leechburg. Edgar dashed 60 yards for a touchdown after he had blocked a punt. The tally at the final whistle stood 6-0.

Another sad story to tell. After Arnold had made a very good showing in the first quarter, Oakmont dashed off to an easy victory. The score was 19-6 Oakmont.

On a muddy field, Arnold met Parnassus, our friendly rivals, and played to a scoreless tie. Though Arnold threatened their goal line several times, we were unable to put the ball over.

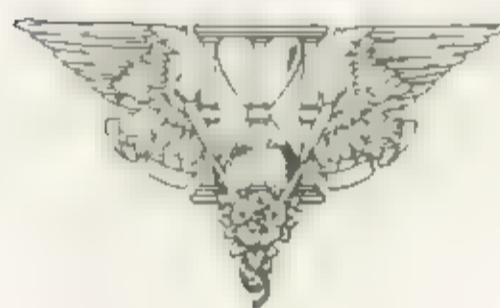

Arnold played one of the most thrilling games ever played by any local team, when they met the strong Midland team. Although we came out on the short end, our boys played a splendid game against a very much heavier team. The game was full of spectacular dashes, Rossi and George each making a 70 yard run. The score at the end read: Midland 21, Arnold 17.

THE CAULDRON

Arnold tried their very best to redeem themselves against Verona in the last game of the season, but were defeated 12-2.

Our boys displayed much zeal and fortitude this last term, and we are justified in believing that our team for the next term will be the best in the history of our school.

THE CAULDRON

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Although the boys' basketball team lost three regulars, George and Lanfalon being ill, and Welshon being ineligible, we consider the past season, under the coaching of Mr. Elder, a very successful. We won six and lost ten league games, and won two out of four non-league games.

The Arnold boys entered the Westmoreland County, the Vandergrift, and the Allegheny-Kiski Valley tournaments.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Our girls' basketball team did not meet with much success this last year, but we must give them their just dues. They played the game and played it well. They fought hard, and played with much ability. This year has been a losing and unfortunate year.

A probable reason for their losing is that the squad was entirely new, the regulars of last year having been lost through graduation.

We are looking forward to a very successful year this next term.

THE CAULDRON

THE GIRLS' COACH

Miss Ruth McAllister, the girls' basketball coach, is a graduate of the Physical Education Department of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College. Through the loss of her whole last year's squad by graduation she was greatly handicapped in arranging a winning combination.

Last year she piloted the girls through a successful season, but this year the girls failed to win any of their games. In spite of all reverses, she kept up the fighting spirit and hope. After all it is not the outcome of the battle that counts so much as the manner in which the battle was fought.

With the experience the girls gathered this year, we are sure she will be able to produce a winning aggregation next season.

THE BOYS' COACH

Mr. Robert T. Elder, athletic director at Arnold High School for the season 1928-29, is a graduate of Penn State College. Mr. Elder arrived in Arnold with a fine record of teams which have thrived under his coaching.

Throughout the year, he labored early and late, trying to pass his knowledge to our boys. His gridiron ability was materially shown in several trick plays and in the fact that this has been one of the best seasons in the history of the school.

We wish him continued success as mentor of athletics when he takes up his work again next fall.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

THE CAULDRON

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society was founded in 1921. There are over six hundred chapters of this society in American high schools. Our school became a chapter of this society in 1926 through the efforts of Mr. T. V. Kelly, High School Principal. This society is doing much to define and set the standards of the ideal High School student.

The Constitution of this national organization recognizes four cardinal objectives as fundamental in all educational practice, Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. To exalt these objectives and hold them ever before the school as goals toward which all should strive is the purpose of this Society.

The emblem of this Society is the keystone and flaming torch. The keystone bears at its base the letters S. L. C. and S., which stand for the four cardinal principles of its organization: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. As the keystone is placed by the builder to hold the perfect arch in perpetual stability, so the structure of our education must hold firm and trust to the purpose of life by the virtues represented in this symbol.

The following have become members of this Society in our school:

Emma Resh	Frank Healy
Libbye Horwitz	Louis Almasy
Antionette Salvator	Jack Hunger
Alfonce Carroll	Dorothy Mains

THE CAULDRON

THE GIRL RESERVE CLUB

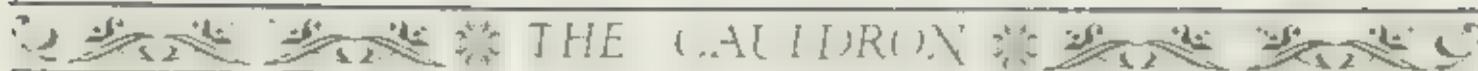

The purpose of this club is to help to give the best and to face life squarely.

There were only eleven new members added during the year. They were generously initiated by the use of oysters, garlic, and mercurichrome. They did not sponsor many social events this year, but the ones that were held were enjoyed by all who attended. The most memorable event was the Hallowe'en party, held in the high school auditorium. Dancing and games were the chief amusements.

Sponsors for the years are: Miss Edith Jay, Miss Eleanor Cooke, Miss Dorothy Hankey

THE CAULDRON

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club, organized this year, has accomplished much in so short a time. Miss Crim, our advisor, has done much in helping us attain success. We assemble every two weeks, at which time, various plays are read us, and dialogues, monologues, and other speeches are given by certain pupils.

Two plays were staged by this organization in our High School assembly period, one of which was entitled "Flitten Mouse." This play was enjoyed by all, and we are justified in believing that it was a great success.

The other program was a Thanksgiving miscellaneous entertainment. It also was well received. Considering that this is the first year of the Club's existence, we feel that we have gained a good standing in the High School, but we hope, with the coming of next year, to better organize this Social Circle and make it one of the outstanding organizations of our Alma Mater.

The officers for the year are:

Vice-President	- - - - -	Elmer Donaldson
Secretary	- - - - -	Ruby Schrecongost
Treasurer	- - - - -	Albert Bianco

THE HI-Y CLUB

Purpose—"To create, maintain, and extend, throughout the community, high standards of Christian Character."

Slogan—"Clean living, Clean Speech, Clean Sports, and Clean Scholarship."

Sponsors for the year '28-'29 are: Abe Lause, John Browne.

Officers for the year are:

President	- - - - -	Alphonse Welshon
Vice-President	- - - - -	Harold Barrett
Secretary and Treasurer	- - - - -	James Pugh

The Hi-Y Club was organized in Arnold High School in 1924. Twenty new members were added this year. Just how they were initiated is a secret with the members of the club, but we can well imagine that they did not miss their share.

The Hi-Y has been more active this year than any previous year. Undoubtedly this is because the new members have been doing some fast stepping from the very beginning. The sponsors, officers, and members were truly interested in the welfare of the club, and tried their best to make it one of the outstanding clubs of the High School.

Several social activities were sponsored throughout the year. The swimming parties were especially enjoyed by all—even though they were stag parties.

The members tried hard to carry out the purpose and slogan of the club. We hope that in the future it will be even better than this past year.

THE CAULDRON

THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra played an important part in the school activities this year. It played for the Health Program, the Junior Class play, the Senior Class play, the Miss Illinois Program, and the Operetta. For these services, we wish to express to the orchestra members our sincere appreciation.

Judging by outside comments, the orchestra is much improved. We commend them on their success and hope that it may continue in the future.

The orchestra consists of the following:

Violins:

Louis Almasy
Frances Petty
Frank Suatoni
Louis Derose
Richard Kolcun

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Quality not quantity applies to this organization. It seems that the success of this club does not depend upon numbers, for there are only sixteen members.

That these boys worked hard was evident in the fine program of songs they presented for the miscellaneous program.

This club also produced most of the talent for the High School Operetta. It is the earnest desire of Miss Cooke that more boys take an interest in the Glee Club.

THE CAULDRON

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Under the capable direction of Miss Cooke, the Girls' Glee Club has proven successful. The thirty-six girls were picked on the basis of tryouts. Thus only the best ones could enter membership.

The time spent in rehearsing for the various parts that they have played in the Easter entertainments and in the regular club meetings has been enjoyed by every member.

The Girls' Glee Club participated in the miscellaneous program, operetta, and the glee club contest in music week.

THE CAUDRON

THE PUBLICITY CLUB

Despite the fact that the Publicity Club is in its prime, it has well accomplished its work, and has won the recognition of the students as being one of the best clubs in our high school

One of the biggest accomplishments of the Publicity Club was the publishing of our school's first paper, The Broadcaster

The publicity club also held several socials during 1929. A skate on February 1, and a Valentine Party and Dance on February 14. Both of these affairs were very well attended and a good time was had by all

Our club presented some very interesting and amusing chapel programs throughout the year

There has been discovered among the members of our club much artistic talent. These talents were used in making artistic signs and posters for the various entertainments that our school presented

THE CAULDRON

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR LITERARY CLUB

In keeping with the purpose of the Junior-Senior Literary Club, many novels and plays have been read and discussed during this year.

Two of the novels were: "The Old Ladies," and "Show Boat."

Plays that were read and discussed during the meetings were: "Penrod," "The Show Off," "The Goose Hangs High," and "Mama's Affair."

Throughout the year three assembly programs were given by the members of this club.

The first one consisted of two short plays: "Green Vin de Fleur," a mystery play, and "Slackers," a short sketch that boosted athletics. Both of these were written by our sponsor.

The second program had an outstanding feature—a chalk-talk by the secretary of the club. The third program was in the form of a play. Two girls went to the theater. A naughty young girl sat behind them. Between the talking of the two girls and the annoyance of the youngster well, the audience found much amusement.

THE BROADCASTER

A new page has been added to our high school curriculum—the publishing of a school paper, The Broadcaster. This new accomplishment has earned a name for our school among the other schools and in our community. We have long wished for and long realized the necessity and vital importance of a school paper to both the student and the school; this year, our dreams, hopes, and aspirations were made to come true.

At the first meeting of the Publicity Club, the proposition of editing and publishing a mimeographed school paper was brought up. The students were all very much enthused over the idea and the paper was definitely agreed and decided upon; and the name, The Broadcaster, was chosen. Then the staff was chosen and work immediately commenced. It was decided upon to dedicate The Broadcaster to our advisor, Miss Edith Jay. The staff worked hard, very hard in fact, to make their first paper a success, and they succeeded. Most of the Staff stayed in after school and worked until very late in the evening. We are mentioning this fact because we believe that it is only fair that we give them the credit that they are so worthy of. We feel, too, that it is only fair to give special mention to those who have worked especially hard to make our paper the success that it is.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Miss Edith Jay, our advisor, for her splendid advice and altruistic help, and for her many efforts which have been a vital asset in helping us to achieve our goal successfully.

We also wish to express our appreciation to Alfonce Carroll, the Editor-in-Chief of The Broadcaster, who has through his efforts and ableness, guided and led his staff to success in the publishing of our new school paper. We also wish to extend our appreciation to Evert Fornia, Harry W. Liss, and Benjamin Slomoff, the Advertising Managers of the Broadcaster. Others deserving special mention for their splendid work on the paper are: Jack Scott, Anthony Uhar, Anthony Kutylo, Jack Slomoff, Myra King, Evelyn Brown, Frances Petty, Emma Scaries, Louise Tannas, Raymond Johnson, Bessie Michael, Frances Rome, and John Laitos.

We hope that we have served our school to advantage the purposes of a school paper which we believe are: To publish news and articles by and about the school and students; to more closely connect the students with the school; to make known the students and their abilities; to honor worthy students; to encourage our talented students and artists; to enable students to express their sentiments; and to bring about a more thorough and better understanding between the teachers and the students.

We hope that the Staff of next year will take up the work of the present staff and continue to lead this innovation on the road of success.

THE ETIQUETTE CLUB

The formation of the Etiquette Club introduced into our school various social characteristics which aimed to teach the students the value and use of manners, politeness, introductions, accepting invitations, etc

The membership of the Etiquette Club has had for its first year an exceedingly large number of members, in fact, it had nearly the largest membership than did any of the other clubs

During the year of 1928-29, the Etiquette Club presented four chapel programs. These chapel programs were all very interesting, and some of these presentations were among the best to be presented. The members of the Etiquette Club very enthusiastically supported the various other social functions of the high school

BOYS' OUTDOOR CLUB

The Boys' Outdoor Club was organized about a month after school reopened in 1928. The purpose of this club is to learn about plants, insects, and animals, their habits, their modes of life and where they are most prevalent. The sponsor did much to aid the members by telling, and explaining many things to them, and taking them on hikes.

Three assembly programs were given by the members of the club. The first one was very amusing, keeping the audience in an uproar the majority of the time. But then, who wouldn't laugh when fifteen boys crawled out of a two-by-four tent?

General hiking experiences were shown and aid was given immediately.

The program was a great success. The second program consisted mainly of dialogue given by two outstanding members of the club.

The third program was quite an assortment, indeed. It consisted of songs, dialogues, and monologues.

The Boys' Outdoor Club has enjoyed a happy year of many interesting meetings which were beneficial to all.

GIRLS' WELFARE CLUB

This was one of the new clubs organized this year. The purpose of the Girls' Welfare Club is: Study and discuss those problems of the greatest importance to girls, which seems to have a place in the regular high school course. Important topics were discussed at meetings. They were: Principles of friendships, personal attractions, social customs, the woman citizen, occupations open to women and persistent qualities required for each

During the last semester, two one-act plays, "Sing a Song of Seniors" and "Men Not Wanted," were presented in assembly

THE FRESHMAN SOPHOMORE LITERARY CLUB

The Freshman-Sophomore Literary Club was organized shortly after school opened in 1928. The purpose of this club is to read, discuss and dramatize readings, plays, dialogues, and impersonate various characteristic personages. Short stories by Washington Irving, and plays, chiefly those by Booth Tarkington, have been read and discussed. The members were highly benefited by their membership in this club, and learned to appear in public programs without faltering.

Three assembly programs were given by the members of this club, all characters being Freshmen and Sophomores. The three programs were: The Armistice Program, Station YYY, and Elizabeth's Young Man. These were all found to be very interesting.

DEBATING TEAMS

For the first time in the history of the school, Arnold has organized debating teams. Only Juniors and Seniors were given a chance to try for positions. Eliminations were made until one team was picked from each class. Then in Chapel, these two teams debated and the most promising individuals were picked for the varsity. The results were: the affirmative team was composed of Libbye Horwitz and Harry Wolosyn, with Pauline Moore as alternate; and the negative team consisted of Antoinette Salvatore and Frank Healy, with Myron Gehr as alternate.

Miss Reher had charge of the affirmative team and Miss Jay had the negative. The teams debated with Norwin, Sewickley, Jeanette, and Parnassus High Schools, respectively. Although the Arnold teams were somewhat handicapped because of the newness of the venture, they made a very good showing against each of the teams with which they debated.

When the debates were over, each member of the teams was presented with a scholastic letter which was well deserved.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

On February 8 the Juniors give their class play, "Apple Blossom Time," in the high school auditorium.

"Apple Blossom Time" is a comedy in three acts, the setting of which is in the small village of Benton. The usual small town characters and small town cuttness are present.

Betty Ann Steward, the heroine of the play, is a little whirlwind straight from Sunshine Alley. She is placed under the guardianship of a Mr. Clark, but incidently, Bob Matthews, the dashing hero, is introduced as Mr. Clark by his very good friend Charlie Lawrence in order to save Bob from the clutches of the town constable, Cal Pickens. Bob has become so very much excited at the thought of marrying a society girl who was very distasteful that quite by mistake he had taken her father's car instead of his own and is in fear of being arrested any minute.

Being guardian of Betty Ann is anything but an easy job, and, to spite her, Bob pretends to play up to Loretta Harris, a very pretty girl.

It all turns out well in the end—from the vanquishing of the villainess of the play, who happens to be Mrs. Forrest, to the engagement of Bob and Betty Ann, and the engagement of Charlie Lawrence and Nancy Prescott.

The comedy of the play is furnished by the one-sided love affair of Polly Biddle and the town constable, the simpering of Annabell Spriggins, the village old timer and the antics of Mickey Maguire and his friend Spud McClosky, who both love Malvina Kurtz, the girl who thinks she has "IT."

The play was well acted and well received. Everyone admitted that the Juniors were to be congratulated on their play "Apple Blossom Time."

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM

Various types of high school talent were displayed in the Miscellaneous Program of March 4. This program should be established as an annual activity, for this year's effort shows that it ranks well with the other entertainments.

The program consisted of the following:

Three selections by the orchestra.

Three songs by the boys' glee club.

A dialogue by girls.

Three songs by the Girls' Glee Club.

Two violin solos.

A dialogue by boys

A selection by the Girls' Glee Club and the Orchestra.

Spanish Dance.

The program was capped by a spooky, one-act play, "The Ghost Story."

OPERETTA

The operetta selected this year was, "The Gypsy Rover." It was given on Friday evening April 5, 1929 by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. It was a story of love in a gypsy camp between a gypsy lad and a society woman of London. The orchestra accompanied the operetta this year for the first time. It was a success in all respects.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Clarence," a comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington was selected as the Senior Class Play. After the war, a soldier applies for a position in the Wheeler home. While in the office he learns much of the intimate affairs of the Wheeler home. He is taken into the home as an assistant secretary to Mr. Wheeler. While there, four love plots develop between Clarence and the different women of the household. This makes the men folk jealous and the fun begins. However, everything ends well, when the lovers find their mates.

THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY SIX

The class of nineteen hundred and twenty-six presented to Arnold High School the second volume of the Cauldron dedicated to the retiring supervising principal, Mr. D. F. Detter, with Alyce Machen as editor-in-chief. The Girl Reserve Club was continued very successfully under the president, Annabelle Wakefield. Under the leadership of this class many helpful clubs were organized, The Science Club, the Art Club, the Dramatic Clubs, the Travel Club and many others. The class play entitled "Little Miss Jack" was staged.

THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN

The class of nineteen hundred and twenty-seven presented to Arnold High School the third volume of the Cauldron, dedicated to Mr. Hugh H. Rogers under the editorship of Herman Marini. They also presented a very delightful football banquet to the stars of the year. Under the leadership of this class the first orchestra was produced, a distinguished organization of Arnold High School. The class of nineteen hundred and twenty-seven presented "Cyclone Sally" as their class play.

THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-EIGHT

The class of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight presented to Arnold High School the fourth volume of the Cauldron, dedicated to Mr. Hilary L. Holste, under the editorship of Mildred Wilds. Through their efforts they obtained a great improvement in the cover, style, arrangement, and general appearance of the book. Several scholarships were awarded through the efforts of Mr. Thomas V. Kelly. The class presented the three-act comedy, "Anne, What's Her Name" on April 27.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR A FIRE DRILL

When the bell for a fire drill rings each one must sit in his seat until told to get up.

If you are a Senior, form quickly in line, march to the stairs, and if you are a boy, run down at full speed, if a girl, go slowly and scream on every step

If you are a Junior, do the same. On reaching the ground do not keep in line, and if you desire, go down town and spend the rest of the day.

If you are a Sophomore, make a grand rush for the door and push everyone before you.

If you are a Freshie just sit still for you are too green to burn.

ADVICE TO THE NEEDY

Note: Please enclose a two-cent stamp to cover cost of handling, postage, bookkeeping, typing, paper, ink, pencils, freight, express, war tax, advice, etc.

In this department, Mr. Bairfax will attempt to solve and help you with all your problems. State your problem clearly and explicitly

Dear Mr. Bairfax:

I am a young girl, sixty inches in height, and I weight one hundred and twenty pounds, and wear size seven slippers and have brown eyes with hair and shoes to match. My problem is as follows: Every time I pass someone they stop, look and then giggle at me. I'm good-looking (my own sentiments) and this happened so often that it is annoying me and it is making me self-conscious. Please advise me what to do.

Sincerely,

Venice Deemilo

Dear Miss (or Mrs) Deemilo:

I read your problem over carefully and am offering you the following advice: When you get up in the morning the first thing to do is to get a regular sized basin; fill it with water; get a cake of soap, a brush, and a towel. Then place the brush and soap in the water; rub the soap on the brush and gently apply to the neck. Gently rub the neck for five minutes and rince thoroughly. Next take the towel and dry your neck. Do this every morning and every time you go out, and you will not be troubled by this any more.

To the Right Honorable and Very Dear Mr. Bairfax:

I am a young fellow and am very much in love with a girl of my own age. My trouble is this: The other day when I visited her home we had a quarrel and now she won't even speak to me. What shall I do? I'm so worried.

Blue Boy

Dear Little Boy Blue:

Worried? Over what? You shouldn't feel worried; you should congratulate yourself. Don't you know when a young couple quarrel it's a sign that they're in love? Send her a box of candy, or, better yet, buy her a limousine.

Dear Mr. Bairfaxo:

Recently I heerd, (I tink I read it in your departmento) that fish was brain food. Please advise me how much fish to eat.

A LUDICROUS EXPLANATION

A clergyman, anxious to introduce some new hymn books, directed the clerk to give out notice in church in regard to them immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however, had a notice of his own to give with reference to the baptism of infants. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon, he announced: "All those who have children they wish baptised, please send in their names at once." The clergyman, who was deaf, supposing that the clerk was giving out the hymn-book notice, immediately arose and said: "And I want to say for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may be obtained from me any day between three and four o'clock; the ordinary little ones at fifteen cents, and special ones with red backs at twenty-five cents each."

THE THREE DUDES

Three dudes were walking along the street one morning, and met an aged, decrepit minister, with long white hair and beard. Desiring to poke fun at the old man, the first called out, "Hello, Father Abraham." The second said, "Hello, Father Isaac," and the third chimed in, "Hello, Father Jacob." The minister seeing the situation, and likewise using Scripture, quietly replied. "I am neither Abraham, nor Isaac, nor Jacob, but Saul, the son of Kish, who went forth to hunt his father's asses; and behold I have found them."

LITERAL OBEDIENCE

A young teacher who graduated from a normal school last June, was asked one day last week to substitute in a higher grade than her own. She was a little nervous over the temporary promotion, and was anxious that everything should go off in the usual good order. While instructing the class in composition, she said: "Now, children, don't attempt any flights of fancy. Don't try to imitate the things you have heard, but just be yourselves and write what is really in you."

As a result of this advice, one little boy turned in the following composition:

"I ain't goin' to attempt no flite of fancy; I'm just goin' to write what's in me, and I got a hart, a liver, two lungs, and some other things like that; then I got a stummick, and it's got a pickle, a piece of pie, two sticks of peppermint candy, and my dinner."

Cy—"I can't be bothered either."

Reason Enough

"I see the doctor's attending him again—what's he got?"
"Money."

Fred—"What's that 'lectrician doin' overat the school?"

Ray—"Puttin' in a 'lectric switch."

Fred—"Great schott! are they goin' to do the licking by 'lectricity now?"

Rav Johnson—"Joolie, I'll bet you just ten dollars I'll never marry you."
Julia Laitos—"Is that so! I'll take that bet and raise you five."

Leffitoff took his wife and baby daughter to the Liberty one night. In a while, the baby's howls raised some comment in the show, until the usherette informed them that they must exit and have their money refunded.

Next night they attended the same theatre. After having seen the whole show, Leffitoff muttered:

"Rosie, did you like the show?"
"No," she replied.
"Rosie, steek de pin in de baby."

How Careless

An Englishman was showing an American around London, and each time an interesting building was pointed out, the visitor said they had a building in America much larger. Eventually they came to the London Bridge.

"What bridge is this?" asked the American.
"Well, I'll be hanged!" exclaimed the Englishman. "My boy has left his meccano set out again!"

OUR SILK HOSE

REACHES PART WAY TO THE POLE

Last year we sold over 7,000,000 pairs of Woman's P.M. P.U. and Silk Hose, which would measure more than 82,000,000 feet. The distance that Commander Beech traveled before he reached the Pole was—longing over 41,000,000 feet—so our Silk Hose is about two-thirds of the way there.

We didn't count Men's Hose either, or Children's, or perhaps we would have been over half the way back by now!

MORERN PSALM XVIII

- 1—“My wife is my boss, I shall not deny it.”
- 2—“She maketh me to lie down behind the bed when swell company cometh, and she leadeth me behind her up Main Street.”
- 3—“She restoreth my pocketbook after she hath spent all its contents for hobble skirts and movie tickets. She leadeth me up the main isle of the church for her new hat’s sake.”
- 4—“Yea, though I walk more than half the night through dark rooms with a crying baby, I will get no rest, for she is behind me; her broomstick and hat pin do anything but comfort me.”
- 5—“She prepareth a cold snack for me, then maketh a bee line for the Mother’s Domestic Club. She anointeth my head with a rolling pin occasionally. My arms runneth over with bundles before she is half through with her shopping.”
- 6—“Surely her dressmakers and her millinery bills shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of my wife forever.”
